Major Bulk Order for 800 Elevators
Received from the Housing Development Board of Singapore

Fujitec Singapore Corp. Ltd. (Head Office: Bedok South Avenue, Singapore; President: Sugumaran N. Pillai), a global corporation of Fujitec Co., Ltd. (Head Office: Hikone City, Shiga Prefecture; President: Takakazu Uchiyama) in South Asia, has recently received a major bulk order for about 800 residential elevators from the Housing Development Board of Singapore (hereinafter referred to as “HDB”).

The order received is for the “20th Term Housing Project,” which the HDB is now developing in an effort to complete the project after four years. The order covers about 300 elevators, including high-speed models, to be installed in high-rise residential buildings with 30 floors or more.

Further, Fujitec Singapore also received another order for about 500 elevators, which include additional new installations, for the “16th Term Modernization Project,” where the HDB plans to refurbish the existing elevators over the next four years.

To date, HDB orders to Fujitec Singapore have totaled about 20,000 units, consisting of new installations and modernization projects, since the receipt of the first bulk order for 2,000 elevators in 1972.

Fujitec Singapore's success in receiving the order is a result of our well respected high performance and high quality products, excellent service quality, and as well as Fujitec's wealth of past achievements.

The Singapore Government has been implementing a full-fledged public apartment policy since 1972.

At present, nearly 90% of the people of Singapore live in high-rise apartments supplied by the HDB.
