Experience Centre Singapore Opens to Enhance Business Activities and Personnel Training in Southeast Asia Region

Fujitec Singapore Corporation Ltd.* (Managing Director: Masashi Tsuchihata) opened Experience Centre Singapore on June 28. The Singapore-based company is a group company of Fujitec Co., Ltd. (head office: Hikone, Shiga Prefecture; President Takakazu Uchiyama).

The Centre is designed as an interactive facility for a wide range of stakeholders to deepen their understanding of elevators and escalators. It acts as a showroom where visitors can experience Fujitec's state-of-the-art technology and a training facility for field engineers. Fujitec will use the Centre to enhance business activities and personnel training in Singapore and nearby countries, as well as to further spread the Fujitec brand that is founded on safety and reliability.

The Centre has a floor space of 3,000 m². Visitors to the showroom area can experience the latest elevator and escalator technology with displays featuring a virtual elevator and augmented reality (AR). The training area is equipped with real elevators and escalators to conduct hands-on training for field engineers. Meanwhile, the Centre is a place for building community bonds, as exemplified by the elevator skills classes for local students.

The opening ceremony at the Centre this morning, June 28, was attended by some 200 guests, including Mr. Desmond Lee, Singapore's Minister for Society and Family Development and Second Minister of National Development.

Skills Contest for Competitors from Nine Southeast Asian Countries

Prior to the opening, the Centre hosted the Second Global Field Engineering Skills Competition, a two-day event that began on June 26. Expert engineers from nine countries including Singapore, Vietnam and India were selected to compete with their maintenance skills. Already, the Centre has become a genuine venue for improving and learning skills.

^{*} Fujitec Singapore, established in 1972, is the group's core company overseeing Southeast Asia.
