Located in Vancouver, a harbor city in Western Canada, the Shangri-La Hotel Vancouver quickly attracts the gaze from passersby with its glass-walled exterior. Rising 61 floors (648 ft. high) above the ground, the building consists of a world-renowned hotel and a luxury condominium. The building is served by a total of 13 Fujitec elevators, including super high-speed models traveling at 360 mpm. The downlights and indirect lights installed in the car ceiling glow with a gentle illumination, creating a classy atmosphere that suitably matches the high-class hotel.
