Yomiuri Television is a broadcasting company which creates various popular TV programs for the people in the Kinki area of Japan. It built a new building in the South City ward of the Osaka Business Park, which is located at the northern part of Osaka Castle Park. The television started the broadcasting at this place in September, 2019.

In this building, 6 units of Fujitec elevators were installed. Their interior and entrance are designed based on the building's design concept, "Tree, Green, and Glass." The elevators produced according to this concept create an air of openness. In addition to those elevators, Fujitec's see-through elevators are moving up and down on the exterior surface of the building. The movement of these elevators with illumination during night informs people of 24-hour vigorous activity by Yomiuri Television.
