Bobath Memorial Hospital is located in Hanam City, adjacent to Seoul. Developed and constructed by Lotte Construction, a major South Korean construction firm, the hospital officially possesses authorization from the Bobath Foundation in the UK to use its name. The facility is designed to provide a comfortable medical environment that prioritizes the well-being of patients and visitors. Fujitec has supplied nine (9) elevators and two (2) escalators to this facility. The elevators feature an elegant design centered on gold-colored stainless steel, creating a clean and serene atmosphere befitting a medical facility.
